Day 3

Playing golf at Le Pavoniere Golf & Country Club

A guided tour of the Oltrarno area in the city centre of Florence including visits to the Mario Bemer craftsman and shoemaker's workshop - and to the Ponziani antique furniture restoration workshop

Dinner at Olio Restaurant

Le Pavoniere Golf Club & Country Club

This is a 19th century villa situated on one of Leopoldo dei Medici's estates. Twenty years ago, the club was founded thanks to the passion of a number of golfers wishing to create their own course. Since then, it has been painstakingly restored and many services have been added. Today, in order to enrich and beautify the surroundings, we have planted 1,800 native tree species and created flower beds around the water obstacles, greens and tees. In this way, when you are playing, you will feel as if you are in a real natural oasis!

Mario Bemer

The surname Bemer is inextricably linked to the finest expertise in men's footwear. The "ars sutoria" transformed the name into a synonym of the finest quality made-to-measure shoes. A history that began in 1982 with Stefano Bemer in a small workshop in Greve in Chianti, and continues today with Mario Bemer, who joined his brother in 1999 in their new workshop situated in the historic centre of Florence. A luxury start-up enterprise, but which has well-established foundations together with a corporate history that focuses first and foremost on good taste and elegance. A shoe bearing the "Mario Bemer Firenze" brand is anything but ordinary, as this is a shoe that is stylish yet distinguished, an accessory that stands out for its flair and absolute timelessness.

The Ponziani workshop

In the 19th century, the Ponzianis were renowned as artisans specialised in the art of gilding, yet it was Giovanni Ponziani who actually started this traditional artistic craftsmanship, handing down values and passion to his sons who worked alongside him in the same workshop. In the 1940s, Mario Ponziani, one of Giovanni's sons, decided to move to the artists' district of San Frediano and establish his own restoration workshop. This is how the Ponziani establishment was founded, on the ground floor of Palazzo Graziosi, a historic building dating back to the 16th century. Over the years, Mario Ponziani has distinguished himself from among the many gilder's workshops in Florence due to his particular expertise in the use of ancient techniques used to restore a wide range of gilded and lacquered furniture dating back to various periods.

Olio Restaurant

Founded in the 1980s on the premises of the historical Palazzo Capponi, situated right in the heart of the ancient Oltrarno district, the Olio Restaurant proposes itself as an innovative, refined "workshop place of bottega" dedicated to the wine and oil production and gastronomic research sectors.

Strengthened by its sector-related expertise, the tradition continues with the innovative formula of this gastronomic workshop with its line of fresh produce.

The particular atmosphere of the environment is enhanced by the old furnishings and frescoed ceilings dating back to the late Renaissance period. Refined dishes perfectly combine with the wide selection of wines - consisting of over 250 labels coming from 45 high-ranking producers on the regional, national and global winemaking scene.

Day 4

Transfer to the town centre of Siena for a guided tour of the Chiocciola and Nicchio contradas as well as a visit to the museum

A visiting to the Poggio Amorelli winery to enjoying a wine tasting session and dinner in the vineyard*

The contradas of Siena

In the Tuscan city of Siena, each of the seventeen historical subdivisions of the city is defined as a district – known locally as a contrada – situated within the walls of this medieval town. For centuries, each contrada has maintained its own representative in charge of the civil management of the territory covered by the contrada as well as the organisational management of the famous “Palio di Siena”. Therefore, each contrada is characterised by its own specific characteristics, traditions, organisations and institutions that have been handed down from one generation to the next. The locally-born tour guide, will accompany you to discover the spirit, history and distinctive uniqueness that even today, enlivens each contrada all year round.

Poggio Amorelli Winery

A small family-run company situated in the heart of the Chianti Classico area. For over 10 years now, it has been specialized in wine tasting and light lunches and dinners accompanied by wine tasting sessions, Poggio Amorelli boasts experienced staff who speak excellent English and take very good care of guests. All the products served at Poggio Amorelli have been especially selected and are of a high quality; all the wines, extra virgin olive oil and balsamic vinegars are produced by the Company itself (last year they became the first Tuscan producers of Balsamic Vinegar in Modena bearing the IGP and PDO brands). The dinner featuring typical regional food will be hosted directly in the winery vineyard, if weather conditions are suitable.

Day 5

Playing golf at Ugolino Golf Club

Dinner at the Buca San Giovanni Restaurant in the city centre of Florence

Ugolino Golf Club

The new course was designed by an Englishman and an Irishman, Cecil Blandford and Peter Gannon. They used the natural contours of the Chianti hillsides to produce an outstanding golf course, that winds through the vineyards of autochthonous grape varieties, olive groves, maritime pine trees and broom shrubs. The course is not very long, yet it demands a high degree of golfing expertise. The greens are small and well defended by bunkers. The sloping fairways also present a great challenge. To play on the Ugolino course does not mean simply indulging in a game of golf, it means wandering through a landscape of great natural beauty, surrounded by olive groves and orchards. It is an unforgettable, uplifting experience.

Buca San Giovanni Restaurant

The restaurant, founded in 1882, is now a proud member of the Association of Historical Enterprises situated within this city proclaimed a Unesco World Heritage Site. In its early days, the Buca San Giovanni was the former Sacristy of the St. John's Baptistry, before becoming the building of the Santa Reparata Cathedral and later, it was a secret meeting place where the Rosacroce Freemasons started their activities. Many important people have visited the “Buca”, such as the Prince of Bulgaria who celebrated his bachelor party here in the 1930s as well as US President John F. Kennedy. Even now, under the ancient vaults you may have the pleasure to sit next to celebrities from the world of cinema and sport, while enjoying the warm atmosphere and savouring excellent Tuscan-style food.

Day 6

A guided tour in an ancient boat along the river Arno *

Dinner held in the garden of the private Villa Pianigiani located in the hillside overlooking Florence.

I Renaioli

I Renaioli is an association that aims to keep the tradition of the "Barchetti d'Arno" (ancient river boats) alive through their recovery, conservation and maintenance. I Renaioli's mission also focuses on the promotion of navigation along the river Arno in the Barchetti, the diffusion of pole-rowing, the development of historical research into the Renaioli as an ancient trade as well as the heritage of acquaintances linked both to the river Arno and the city of Florence and, last but not least, the defence and conservation of the river environment. During the boat trip you will be able to enjoy spectacular view of Florence from a different yet fascinating perspective, especially of the Palazzo della Signoria and Ponte Vecchio, which stand out from the crowd. This tour will enable you to take a trip back in time, to experience life of the inhabitants who lived their daily life in in this area.

Villa Pianigiani

This is a beautiful historic villa perched on top of Colle Ginevra and which provides a breath-taking view of the city of Florence.

It dates back to the 16th century and has been handed down from generation to generation by various noble families and it was finally restructured and expanded in the 19th century by the Pianigiani family.

Today, it is a private villa, still occupied by descendants of the Pianigiani family: this is a unique, unrepeatable opportunity because the villa is usually closed to the public but will be opened especially for this event.

You will have the opportunity to bring this Experience to an end with a dinner reserved only for a few choice guests in this terraced Italian garden that directly overlooks and completely embraces Florence, from its cupolas to its hillside environments.
