Ca' della Nave Golf Club

The first of the three golf courses designed in Italy in the late 80s by the famous US Golf Champion Arnold Palmer, well-known designer of golf courses in the world, inspired by the nearby Venice spreading the 27 holes of water obstacles.

Arnold Palmer created a top-level course, both in the technical and aesthetic result, giving birth to an 18-hole "champion" par 72 of 6350 meters and to an "executive" of 9 holes.

The large bunkers scattered along the fairways and in defense of large and fast greens, are harmoniously inserted between the vegetation and the water in the wide horizons of a technical and suggestive path.

Peculiarity of the field is given by the abundance of water obstacles created with artificial lakes that affect as many as 12 of the 18 holes, the consistent presence of large bunkers American, from the technical aspects and the pleasantness of the surrounding landscape that count it among the best competition fields made in Italy

Cansiglio Golf Club

Founded in 1958, Cansiglio is the second oldest Golf Club in the Veneto Region. Situated in the second Italian forest at 1027 meters above sea level in the beautiful Alps, the course is considered one of the best mountain course in all of Europe.

The Golf Club Cansiglio, awarded by the Italian Golf Federation for its biodiversity, is made of eighteen holes that developed from the original design of the British architect John Harris. The course is in links-style, naturally waved and surrounded by trees.

Golf players are always astonished by the beauty of the course and by the spectacular views. Beginners, advanced players, and friends are always welcomed at Golf Club Cansiglio.

Tenuta Contarini Villa Clementina

Elegance and style are the features of this historic 19th century villa surrounded by the vineyards of the Tenuta Contarini in the heart of the Prosecco DOC wine zone.

Conegliano is still described today as “the Pearl of Veneto” for the beauty of the city and natural scenery that surrounds it as well as to the parcels which have helped make it famous worldwide for Prosecco.

Tenuta Contarini is an integral part of this territory that each season acquires different colors and shades to give the look always new and intense emotions. The estate with its twelve hectares of vineyards contributes to honor the title “cradle of Prosecco D.O.C.G” that the territory of Conegliano has gained over the years, helped by a unique geographical location of its kind in conjunction with the work of expert wine makers.

Walking along the streets of Tenuta Contarini will not be difficult to be enraptured by the beauty of the park, by the fragrance and colors of the beautiful rose bushes or the unexpected encounters with deer, squirrels, hares and many other animal species.
